

Privacy Policy

The Team at My Rent Finder, LLC recognizes everyone is concerned about their privacy. Our desire is to respect each person's desire for privacy and protect the information shared with us to the highest degree possible while at the same time providing the most useable system for everyone.

Our policies concerning how we share your information are detailed below:

- We will not sell your personal information.
- We will share your information with users of the system to conduct the normal business the system is designed to perform. In most cases, you will need to provide your FinderId for that information to be shared. In the case of Property Managers some information is shared automatically since the desire is to have tenants or potential tenants contact you for business purposes.
- We will share information with Law Enforcement Agencies when required to do so by law or legal means.

Our policies concerning how we use your information are detailed below:

- We will use your personal information to verify your account so we can maintain a quality site that remains focused on the site's purpose.
- We will use your personal information to contact you if we have found an issue that needs to be resolved.
- In cases where you are using the paid portions of the site, we will use your personal information to keep you informed about billing, renewals or products purchased.
- In cases where you have signed up for notifications, we will use your personal information to provide the desired notifications.

We reserve the right to change our policies as necessary and will always follow the golden rule of treating you like we would like to be treated.

We at My Rent Finder, LLC want to provide you with the highest quality service with integrity and respect of your privacy. We are honored you are choosing to be a part of our little slice of the world and want to make sure you are happy with our services. If for any reason you have a concern regarding our policies or our execution of our policies, please feel free to contact us and we will do our best to address your concerns.